FNC passes environmental protection amendments

Abu Dhabi, After a long debate, amendments to a clause in the country's environmental protection legislation were passed by the Federal National Council by a majority vote.

The clause in question, 44 part four, states that manufacturing companies need to abide to regulations set by the Ministry of Environment and Water when manufacturing, producing, and exporting rocks, quarries, crushers and cement, including clinker.

The clause sets out that the rules are to ensure the environment is not affected and the public's health is not compromised.

Dr. Rashid bin Fahad urged members to think of their national duty and their responsibility towards the environment and the public, which has long complained of pollution from these factories.

Dr. Abdulrahim Al Shahin (RAK) read a line from the Constitution that states natural resources are owned by the local government and not the federation. He argued that cement and clinker both had no place in the clause in particular since they were commodities and not natural resources.
